

Contents

2	Preface	BRNO
3	CARL HENRIK FREDRIKSSON: ... and never the two shall meet?	71	BENEDICT SEYMOUR & JIRÍ PEHE: The critical divide. Marxism: radical alternative or totalitarian relic?
	BUDAPEST	82	ANDERS RAMSAY: Marx? Which Marx?
7	MARTIN M. SIMECKA & LÁZSLÓ RAJK: Dilemma '89. «My father was a com- munist»	94	JIRÍ PEHE: Washing their hands of the welfare state
19	MARTIN M. SIMECKA: Still not free. Why post-'89 history must go beyond self-diagnosis		BRATISLAVA
	WARSAW	99	KENAN MALIK & FERÓ SEBEJ: Multiculturalism at its limits? Man- aging diversity in the new Europe
25	ARNE RUTH & DANUTA GLONDYS: Breaking the bonds of national mythology. Memory and European citizenship	109	KENAN MALIK: How to become a real Muslim
33	DANUTA GLONDYS: The revenge of memory?		SOFIA
36	ARNE RUTH: Myths of neutrality. Ignoring the Holocaust in Sweden and Switzerland	117	JUDITH VIDAL-HALL & IVAYLO DITCHEV: Democracy live. Media, politics and the tyranny of the opinion poll
	BUCHAREST	125	IVAYLO DITCHEV: Democracy «live»
45	ROBERT MISIK & DANIEL DAIANU: Economy and ethics in crisis. A new-old East-West divide?		LVIV
55	MIRCEA VASILESCU: Fragile new Europe	131	DAVID VAN REYBROUCK & ANDRIY SHEVCHENKO: Splitting up? The re-nationalization of Europe
57	DANIEL DAIANU: For a return to common sense	140	FRANCESCA SPINELLI & DAVID VAN REYBROUCK: Is Belgium the test-bench for democracy 2.0?
62	ROBERT MISIK: World improvement reloaded. Why being on the Left means being pro- gressive	144	Authors & copyright
		148	Eurozine: Europe's leading cultural magazines at your fingertips
		150	Imprint